1 in 4 Children have their first anaphylactic reaction in a school setting. District issued EpiPens for emergency use have arrived at CPS

CPS is ready, are you?

- Identify allergy symptoms and triggers (food, bee sting, latex, etc.)
- Talk with your medical provider and get your child tested
- Plan ahead and obtain documentation (physicians plan, 504 Plans, prescriptions, etc.)
- Communicate with school nurse, school staff and classroom parents
- Get your medication and/or refills along with an updated Emergency Action Plan
- Review how to administer the EpiPen® with your child
- District issued EpiPens® for emergencies should NEVER replace your child’s reported diagnosis, 504 Plan, Emergency Action Plan and prescribed epinephrine medication

If your child has EVER had an allergic reaction to food, bee stings, or latex talk to with your healthcare provider for testing and follow up as soon as possible.
